Building Sustainable Agriculture for Food Security in the Euro-Mediterranean Area: Challenges and Policy Options

|

Author(s)

Paciello, Maria Cristina

Description / Abstract

This work discusses food security and sustainable agriculture, why the MENA Region became a net-food importer, and geopolitical implications of water and food security in Southern and Eastern Mediterranean Countries. It also explores the effect of climatic change on water and food security, the water-food nexus, and the quest for food security in SEMCs.
