

How to Conduct a Shared Vision Planning Process

١

Author(s)

Creighton, James L.

Description / Abstract

In this guide, Shared Vision Planning is described as a process for resolving water management disputes, because that is the context in which it is used by the Corps of Engineers. But the technique can be and has been used to address issues in other fields such as transportation and energy planning. IWR believes the approach has broad applicability.

Publication year

2010

Publisher

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers

Keywords

Guidelines, Manuals and Handbooks

Thematic Tagging

Ecosystems/Nature-based solutions Gender Youth Language English View resource

Related IWRM Tools

Shared Vision Planning and Collaborative Modelling

C2.02

Source URL:

 $\underline{https://beta.toolbox.venthic.com/resource/how-conduct-shared-vision-planning-process}$